

START YOUR CAREER WITH DARTMOUTH-HITCHCOCK HEALTH

OPHTHALMIC ASSISTANT TRAINING PROGRAM

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

- ▶ A 17-week long training program prepares individuals to become entry-level Ophthalmic Assistants
- ▶ The training includes general education, a focus on professionalism, and quality patient care
- ▶ Selected individuals will be hired by Dartmouth-Hitchcock to train and work as Ophthalmic Assistants
- ▶ Graduates are eligible to sit for the JCAHPO Certified Ophthalmic Assistant exam (COA) after their first 500 hours of work

CAREER OPPORTUNITY

- ▶ Earn wages and benefits while you learn!
- ▶ Start a meaningful career, working alongside eye doctors, ophthalmologists or optometrists, to provide individualized service
- ▶ Enjoy opportunities for career growth! With additional training, you can become a Certified Ophthalmic Technician or a Certified Medical Technologist, among others

Join an online
Information
Session

→ Tuesday, April 19
12 to 1 pm

→ Wednesday, May 4
6 to 7 pm

To learn more, register for an information session, or to apply,
visit dhwri.org